

Steven M. Campbell, AIA, LEED BD+C

Education

Bachelor of Architecture,
University of Cincinnati, College of Design, Architecture, Art, and Planning, 1990

University of Charleston, College of Arts and Sciences, attended 1982-1983

Professional Registration

Licensed for Architecture in State of Washington, 2007 No. 9272

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards in Historic Architecture

Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED)
BD+C Accredited Professional since 2009

Membership

American Institute of Architects,
Seattle Chapter

United States Green Building
Council

Contact

steve@tjp.us

office: 206-523-1618

cell: 206-406-8504

Principal Architect

Steve is a registered architect working in the field since 1990 on both residential and small commercial projects. He has worked with The Johnson Partnership since 2001, and became a principal in 2019.

Architectural Services

- Architectural design and drawing
- Permitting
- Computer modeling and visualization
- Project management, including site observation

Historic Evaluation & Preservation

- Practical experience both recommending and implementing the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Historic Preservation
- Obtains Certificates of Approval from the Seattle Landmarks Preservation Board
- Prepares historic resources reports focusing on best practices for energy conservation

Recent Projects with The Johnson Partnership

Summit Avenue Apartment Court, Seattle (in progress): A project to add nine new apartments to an existing courtyard apartment building and remodel the ten existing apartments.

Union City Addition, Seattle (2018): A new bedroom and bathroom with universal design features to allow the client to age in place.

University of Washington More Hall, Nuclear Reactor Wing, Seattle (2016): Prepared HABS drawings for submittal to the Library of Congress.

Villa Luna Residence, Seattle (2015): A remodel of an existing mid-century modern home in Seattle. Featured in Fine Homebuilding, Kitchens & Baths issue, Winter 2017.

Denny Blaine Tudor Residence, Seattle (2010-13): Design of a new balcony, entry roofs, and new pavilion roof for a Tudor residence in Seattle's Denny Blaine neighborhood.

Fauntleroy Residence, Seattle (2010): A new duplex for a father and daughter in West Seattle. Winner of People's Choice Award for the 2010 AIA Seattle's Future Shack competition.

Weed Building, Seattle (2010): Tenant improvements and historical preservation services for an existing building in Seattle's Columbia City Historic District.

Previous Experience

2000–2001: Project Manager, Lane Williams Architects, Seattle, a residential design firm

1991, 1993–2000: Project Manager, Northwest Hospital, Construction Management Department, Seattle. Remodel of the Childbirth Center, the Rehabilitation Unit, an addition to the Daycare Center and the hospital's Geropsychiatric Program, along with various interior remodels.

